Unlocking the Full Value for Your Business

Thursday, October 11, 2012

8:15 am - 10:00 am

Metro South Chamber, 60 School Street, Brockton

You've done a great job managing and growing your business. But what's next? How do you exit?

As you think about selling your business in preparation for transition to the next phase of your life-retirement or your entrepreneurial venture, questions abound:

- What's full value and how do you unlock it?
- What do you need to do to prepare-strategically and emotionally?
- When is the right time?
- What will a buyer pay and will it be enough?
- How can I be sure that I get full price and fair value?

Simply put, if you are not planning your transition- who will? At the start of a business exit or sale process, there is often a significant gap between the owner's price expectations and the likely market value of the business. Fortunately, there are steps you can take prior to marketing your company in order to increase its value in the eyes of likely buyers and, as a result, close this valuation gap and achieve a successful exit.

The key to transitional success is preparation. Join us and prepare. Topics include:

- Roadmap for sales growth
- Identifying intangible assets
- Minimizing risks, maximizing opportunities

Presenting will be Warren Rutherford, President of The Executive Suite, Joe Rahal, President of Rahal Consulting, and Andrew Crain, Partner, Mirus Capital Advisors.

There will be coffee and networking at 8:15 am with the program running from 8:30 am - 10:00 am. The cost to attend is $25. Money collected will be donated to Father Bills & Mainspring. To register, contact the Executive Suite at 508-778-7700 or email wjr@theexecutivesuite.com.

Chamber Mourns Board Member Jack Conway

John E. "Jack" Conway of Scituate passed on July 23rd, 2012 age 88 at South Shore Hospital, Weymouth. He was an extraordinarily generous philanthropist who consistently managed to stay in the background.

He was born in Boston and attended the University of Notre Dame. After two years of selling real estate in Natick, Conway moved to the South Shore and opened his one-man office in Hingham in 1956. Jack Conway & Company now operates 40 real estate offices from its headquarters in Hanover, and has more than 600 employees. He and his company were a dominant force for decades in the real estate market south of Boston, in which he branded Conway Country. A veteran of the U.S. Navy, Jack served during World War II, and was a candidate for U.S. Congress in 1982. Jack was a member of the American Legion Post #144, the development council of Stonehill College, the board of South Shore Hospital and a founding member of the Ambassadors of Holy Cross. He was a Knight of Malta.

The founder and Chairman of Jack Conway & Company, Jack was the former President of the Mass. Association of Realtors and Vice-President of the National Association of Realtors, and was named the state's Realtor of the Year in 1971. He served as President of the Plymouth County Development Council, the South Shore Chamber of

Jack Conway

Commerce, the Scituate Chamber of Commerce and the Metro South Chamber of Commerce. He also served as president of the Relo International, and was a founding member of Leading Real Estate Companies of the World.

Conway is recognized today as an innovator. His list of industry honors and awards exceeds the term lengthy. His was among the first brokerages in the country to operate its own mortgage company. He insisted on extensive training for anyone selling homes for him, and when that training was not available, he started his own in-house real estate academy.

Conway's charities and his quiet support for good causes were many, near and far. He was the founder of a group that supports the work of a Catholic religious order among the poor in Peru, and he loved his faith in many, many ways. Closer to home, the Conway Children's Advocacy Center in Brockton is named in honor of Conway and his wife. So, too, is the "The Conway House," a family shelter in Middleboro operated by Brockton's Mainspring Coalition for the Homeless.

"Jack Conway was a great friend to the Chamber. His active participation, meaningful contributions and significant impact on so many aspects of this community will be greatly missed. He was a friend and trusted advisor. I will miss him", said Christopher Cooney, Metro South Chamber President & CEO.

The Fall is a Great Time to Host an Intern

School is just around the corner and soon there will be an abundance of high school student interns available to assist employers at their workplaces. In the Connecting Activities Internship Program, students from local high schools are matched to worksites based on their career interests and are involved in a meaningful worksite learning experience that builds academic, technical, and workplace skills. Become a leader in the community by hosting an intern and help shape the future of the Metro South region's skilled workforce!

If you are interested in hosting an intern at your worksite, please contact Yara Cardoso, Connecting Activities Coordinator, by calling (508) 586-0500 x 227, e-mail ycardoso@metrosouthchamber.com, or visit www.metroouthchamber.com.

Summer of Work and Learning Successful

Victor Pimentel rakes in front of City Hall

The Brockton Public Schools Summer of Work and Learning had yet another successful year, ending their program August 3rd with an Intern Showcase and Network Luncheon at Thorny Lea Golf Club. The students participated in paid internships around the city of Brockton, and centered their activities around the theme of Community Service. The thirteen teams developed skills in portfolio development, online learning, action research plans, and so much more. The Summer of Work and Learning also kicked off their first year of "Giving ONE Day Back" where they set aside one day to put their action plans into work and help out in their communities. The students showcased their work in a professional manner with the support of their employers and team leaders, and held no hesitation in expressing how Summer of Work and Learning helped build their futures and gain insight to the workforce.
