This workshop walks you through the steps needed to build an effective business plan. It is intended for individuals starting a business or those already in business who are in need of funding for growth. The process for developing a sound business plan is also of benefit to those business owners wishing to improve performance and profits by identifying weaknesses, opportunities for improvement, help create focus, and set up meaningful milestones and measurements.

Our presenter, Tim Nelson, is a SCORE Business Counselor who has started, built and sold multi-million dollar businesses. He will show how preparing a detailed business plan has been an important part of the success of his businesses.
